

Governor Introduction – Colin Humphrey

My name is Colin Humphrey and I currently have a daughter who is a pupil at Norton Canes High School.

I am an electrical engineer by trade, but I am currently working for a market leading civil engineering company as a safety support advisor to our rail division in the Western & Wales region. I first joined as an electrician before moving to a project management position. In 2015 I passed a NEBOSH certificate in Construction Health & Safety before moving to my current role as a safety support advisor.

I have only recently joined Norton as a parent governor and I am looking forward to assisting the estates and facilities team and the board of governors to the best of my ability.

We live in the Great Wyrley area, and when not working I enjoy going to the gym, running and challenges such as mud & wolf runs.
